

This is a map that highlights the different states that were involved in the Civil war, it should be notes that territories that were not recognized as states are omitted. Overlaid on top of the map is modern day military instillations as of 2016. This map could be used to tell what strategical advantages each side would have in a modern day fight